Metal Pricing Calculator Update

Introduction

Beginning with Edge version 25.1, you will see a completely revamped Metal Pricing Calculator originally introduced with our Spot Metal Pricing feature. The once strictly manual Metal Pricing Calculator has been updated to download current metal pricing automatically at the start of each day, with the option to manually refresh the prices once per hour with the Refresh Prices button located at the bottom of the Metal Pricing window.

Additionally, what was once only accessible under the Inventory menu, has been expanded to now include availability from POS when using the Trade/Buy feature making the Trade/Buy process of precious metals quicker and more convenient than ever for both you and your customers.

NOTE: If the Refresh Prices button is grayed out, that means you have already used this button to refresh metal prices manually within the last 60 minutes. The button will become clickable again once 60 minutes have passed, allowing you to manually refresh your metal prices again.

POS – Trade/Buy

As mentioned, you can now access the updated Metal Pricing Calculator from POS using the Trade/Buy feature.

To do so:

- 1. Open POS and select your Associate, then find/add your Customer.
- 2. Click the Trade/Buy button.
- 3. From the Trade-In saleline, click the Details button and select Metal Calculator.

4. From the Metal Pricing window, select your desired Metal Type and enter the Weight and watch as the Buy Price field automatically calculates the price based on your entered metal details and the current metal prices as seen in the example images below:
